The spending accounts

This section of the SPD describes the benefits under the Citigroup spending accounts as of January 1, 2001. Citigroup has entered into an arrangement with UnitedHealthcare to administer the spending accounts.

This section of the SPD should be read in combination with the About Your Health Care Benefits section for more information about plan eligibility and enrollment for you and your dependents, coordination of benefits, your legal rights, your contributions, and other administrative details.

This section of the SPD is intended to comply with the requirements of ERISA and other applicable laws and regulations. It does not create a contract or guarantee of employment between Citigroup and any individual.

Overview

Each calendar year, Citigroup offers you the chance to set up spending accounts to pay for eligible, unreimbursed, or out-of-pocket health and dependent care expenses with before-tax dollars. You set aside your before-tax dollars for these costs and then reimburse yourself for the covered expenses.

You do not have to participate in any of the Citigroup medical, dental, or vision care plans in order to take advantage of the tax savings offered with a spending account.

The following chart summarizes the two spending accounts available to you.

	Health Care Spending Account	Dependent Care Spending Account
Annual deposit up to:	$5,000.	$5,000 ($2,500 if married and filing separate tax returns).
Before-tax dollars used to reimburse:	Your eligible health care expenses.	Your eligible dependent care expenses  Dependent Care Spending Account subsidy available for employees within certain annual salary guidelines.

Tax consequences

Benefits you elect under the spending accounts are generally excluded from your income. However, if a spending account or one of its components is determined to be discriminatory in favor of highly compensated employees, the Plan Administrator has the right to modify the elections or benefits of these highly compensated employees to eliminate any discrimination.

In the event an expense reimbursed by the spending accounts is not eligible for reimbursement, the employee agrees to reimburse Citigroup for any additional federal income tax, state or local income tax, Social Security tax, or any other amount owed.

Before-tax contributions

When you enroll in a spending account, your before-tax contributions will be deducted from your pay automatically each pay period. This means that your deductions come out of your paycheck before you pay federal income and employment taxes (including Social Security and Medicare) at most income levels. These deductions are also exempt from most state and local income taxes, although certain states do not fully exempt spending account contributions from their income taxes.

When you spend after-tax dollars on health care or dependent care expenses, you have already paid federal income and employment taxes on the money you are using to buy benefits. But, by taking advantage of favorable tax laws, the spending accounts let you use before-tax dollars. This means your contributions come out of your pay before federal income and employment taxes are deducted. Before-tax contributions reduce your gross salary, which lowers your taxable income and, therefore, the amount of income tax you must pay. Your spending accounts have no effect on your pay-related benefits.

Social Security

Each year you pay Social Security taxes on a certain level of your earnings, called the wage base. Since the before-tax dollars you use for your spending account contributions are not considered part of your pay for Social Security tax purposes, your Social Security taxes also will be reduced if your pay falls below the wage base after these before-tax dollars are subtracted from your full earnings. In this case, your future Social Security benefit may be smaller than if after-tax dollars were used for those purposes.

IRS requirements

In return for favorable tax treatment, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) imposes requirements on Health Care and Dependent Care Spending Accounts. Because of these requirements, you will need to be sure your account works effectively for you.

- Elections on how much to contribute must be made for a full calendar year. During each open enrollment period, you can enroll in a spending account for the following year. Once you have made your decision, you cannot change it during the year unless you have a change in family status. If you are enrolling as a new hire, you also cannot change your decision for the remainder of the year;
- Enrollment in the Health Care Spending Account and Dependent Care Spending Account are separate elections. If you enroll in both a Health Care and a Dependent Care Spending Account, you may not transfer money from one account to the other;

- You can be reimbursed only for expenses you incur during the same calendar year in which you make contributions. After the end of each year, you will have until March 31 of the following year to submit claims for your expenses for the prior year. If you do not submit claims by March 31, you will forfeit any money remaining in your account; and
- Unused balances are forfeited. If you do not spend all the money in your spending account for expenses incurred during the year, the unused balance cannot be returned to you or carried forward for use during the following year.

Health Care Spending Account

You may deposit up to $5,000 a year into your Health Care Spending Account to reimburse yourself for eligible health care expenses. Expenses must be incurred during the period of time you are participating in the account.

Eligible expenses

Eligible medical expenses are those considered by the IRS to be deductible medical expenses and that are not otherwise reimbursed under another group health plan, and include:

- Any deductible, copayments or coinsurance;
- Routine exams and tests not reimbursed under your medical, dental, or vision plan;
- Health expenses for legal dependents you claim on your tax return, whether or not they are covered as dependents under your medical, dental, or vision plan;
- Childbirth classes;
- Cardiac rehabilitation classes;
- Acupuncture;
- Back supports;
- Chiropractor visits;
- Expenses above reasonable and customary (R&C) charges;
- Nursing home care for medical reasons;
- Physical therapy;
- Smoking cessation if prescribed by a doctor;
- Special schooling for the disabled;
- Sterilization surgery;
- Vaccinations and immunizations;
- Prescription vitamin and minerals prescribed by a doctor;
- Weight reduction program based on diagnosis and letter of medical necessity; and
- Medical expenses incurred in countries outside the United States.

Eligible vision and hearing care expenses include the following expenses that are not otherwise reimbursed under any other group health plan:

- Eye and hearing examinations;
- Eyeglasses, including tinting;
- Contact lenses, including all necessary supplies and equipment;
- Hearing aids and repairs;
- Special telephone and television equipment for the deaf;
- Guide dog or other animal or human guide used by a visually-impaired or hearing-impaired person; and
- LASIK and radial keratotomy.

Eligible dental expenses include the following expenses that are not otherwise reimbursed under any other group health plan:

- Any deductibles and copayments you have to pay under your dental plan; and
- Orthodontia not covered by the dental plan (requires a paid receipt). The date a payment was made for orthodontia treatment (scheduled monthly payment) determines the plan year in which the expense may be reimbursed from your Health Care Spending Account. Therefore, allocated paid expenses during this year may be reimbursed only during this plan year, through March 31.

For more information on eligible expenses, see IRS Publication 502 which is available from the IRS by calling (800) TAX-FORM or from the IRS website, www.irs.gov.

Ineligible expenses

You may not use your Health Care Spending Account to pay for any services not otherwise reimbursed by another group health plan or for any expenses that the IRS does not consider tax deductible. Some examples include:

- Custodial care in a nursing home;
- Health club memberships;
- Marriage or family counseling;
- Funeral or burial expenses;
- Cosmetic procedures and drugs;
- Contact lens insurance;
- Insurance premiums including those paid by you, your spouse, or your dependents, including COBRA premiums;
- Expenses eligible for reimbursement under any medical or dental plan to which you belong;
- Exercise equipment, hot tubs, whirlpool baths, and swimming pools;
- Non-prescription drugs, vitamins, and natural foods;
- Over-the-counter medicines, except for contact lens solutions, cleaners, and hearing aid batteries; and
- Medical expenses for someone who is not your lawful spouse or IRS dependent.

Submitting a claim

You must submit a bill, invoice, or explanation of benefits (EOB) from your medical or dental coverage with your claim form. If you are enrolled in a UnitedHealthcare (UHC) medical option and have selected the single-bill submission feature, any unpaid amount of certain health care claims will be submitted automatically for reimbursement.

If health care expenses exceed the current amount in your health care account, you will be reimbursed up to the amount of your annual election less any prior reimbursements that you have received.

You will have through March 31 of the following calendar year to submit claims for expenses incurred for the prior year. If you leave the plan during the year, there may be restrictions on the claims you submit for reimbursement.

Expenses must be documented in accordance with IRS requirements and must be incurred while you are a plan participant and during the calendar year. In order to submit claims for health claims incurred after your termination of employment, you must elect COBRA for continuation of coverage.

Dependent Care Spending Account

You may deposit the following amount into a Dependent Care Spending Account to pay for dependent care expenses on a before-tax basis less any amount provided under the dependent care account subsidy:

If you are:	You may deposit:
Single	Up to a maximum of $5,000.
Married and filing jointly	Up to a family maximum of $5,000.
Married and filing separately	Up to a maximum of $2,500.

Expenses must be incurred during the period of time you are participating in the account.

Citigroup also offers a tax free subsidy to partially fund dependent care expenses for employees within certain annual salary guidelines. See Dependent care account subsidy for more information. The amount you contribute to the Dependent Care Spending Account, combined with the amount provided under the dependent care account subsidy, may not exceed $5,000.

Eligibility

You are eligible to participate in a Dependent Care Spending Account if:

You have a child or disabled dependent who meets the definition of a "qualified dependent"; and

You use this benefit to help pay only "employment-related expenses."

A "qualified dependent" is a person who is:

- Under 13 years of age who is living with you and who you claim on your federal income tax return as a dependent; or
- Other dependents, such as your spouse, an elderly parent, or an older child who spends at least eight hours per day in your home and who cannot care for themselves because of a physical or mental disability.

Only "employment-related expenses" will be covered under the Dependent Care Spending Account. This includes expenses you incur for care of a qualified dependent in order for you to be gainfully employed.

Examples of such expenses include:

- Household services that are incidental to dependent care, such as cooking, cleaning, and general housekeeping;
- Wages and Social Security taxes paid to or on behalf of a qualified caretaker as defined by the IRS; and
- Care of a qualified dependent, including such things as feeding, administration of medicine, general supervision, and nursery school.

Expenses not covered include:

- General babysitting other than during work hours;
- Care or services provided by your child or children under age 19 or anyone for whom you could legally claim a dependency exemption for federal income tax purposes;
- Overnight camp; and
- Cost of schooling in the first grade or higher.

Effects of before-tax contributions

All contributions to the Dependent Care Spending Account are made on a before-tax basis. You can use either the Dependent Care Spending Account or the dependent care tax credit currently available for these expenses. However, you cannot use both. For more information on the dependent care tax credit, see IRS Publication 503 which is available from the IRS by calling (800) TAX-FORM or from the IRS website, www.irs.gov.

Also, you must report the name and the taxpayer identification number of the dependent care provider on your income tax form.

If you are married, both of you must work. Benefit payments cannot exceed the lower of your salary or your spouse's earned income. If your spouse is unemployed, or is employed in any nonpaying capacity, you cannot enroll in a Dependent Care Spending Account. If your spouse is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself or herself or is a full-time student for at least five months during a plan year, the above restriction does not apply to you. In these cases, your spouse's monthly income is assumed to be $200 if you have one dependent and $400 if you have two or more dependents.

If you are not married, benefit payments cannot exceed your annual salary.

Submitting a claim

You must submit a paid receipt or cancelled check with your claim form. Dependent care claims will be reimbursed only up to the amount of payroll contributions in your account. If a dependent care expense exceeds this amount, you will be reimbursed the balance as additional contributions are credited to your account.

All benefit checks must be deposited within 12 months of the date on which the check was issued. If any check is not deposited during this time it will be cancelled and you will forfeit the amount of the check.

You will have through March 31 of the following calendar year to submit claims for expenses incurred for the prior year. If you leave the plan during the year, there may be restrictions on the claims you submit for reimbursement.

Under the Dependent Care Spending Account, UnitedHealthcare will pay claims on date of services after your termination, up to the amount you have contributed to your account. There is no risk of forfeiture upon termination.

Dependent care account subsidy

Citigroup offers a tax-free subsidy to partially fund dependent care expenses for employees within certain annual salary guidelines.

The dependent care account subsidy is available to employees who are enrolled in the Dependent Care Spending Account, earn less than $45,000 per year, and whose annual household income is less than $90,000.

In the case of single parents providing sole support, the family income maximum of $90,000 as stated above can apply. The amount of the subsidy you may receive is based on your election for the Dependent Care Spending Account and your annual base salary. (Annual base salary does not include such items as overtime, bonus or shift differential.) The maximum annual subsidy is $1,500 for full-time employees and $1,125 for part-time employees.

The subsidy ranges in total from 15% to 30% (11¼ to 22½ % for eligible part-time employees) of your Dependent Care Spending Account election, with the maximum annual subsidy of $1,500 ($1,125 for eligible part-time employees).

Eligible subsidy percentage

Eligible subsidy percentage

Annual base salary	Full-time employees	Part-time employees
Less than $25,001	30%	22½ %
$25,001 - $35,000	20%	15%
$35,001 - $45,000	15%	11¼%
$45,001 - $90,000*	15% if sole financial provider	11¼% if sole financial provider
More than $90,000	Not eligible	Not eligible
Maximum annual subsidy	$1,500	$1,125

*You will be eligible for a 15% dependent care subsidy if you are the sole financial support for your dependents and your insurance earnings are between $45,001 and $90,000.

The subsidy will reduce the amount deducted from your paycheck. When enrolling in a Dependent Care Spending Account, you must remember to subtract the subsidy from your total dependent care expenses from the previous year to determine your total contribution for the upcoming year. Only expenses incurred from the effective date of coverage through December 31 can be applied to your Dependent Care Spending Account.

To receive the Dependent Care Spending Account subsidy, you must complete the authorization form that will be mailed with your confirmation statement. If you enroll in a Dependent Care Spending Account and are eligible for the subsidy but do not complete the Dependent Care Spending Account authorization form, you will not receive the subsidy.

Subsidy example

For example, you earn $27,000 per year and wish to contribute $4,000 to a Dependent Care Spending Account. At $27,000, you are eligible for a 20% subsidy on your contribution. Therefore, Citigroup contributes $800 to your Dependent Care Spending Account (20% of $4,000) and your total annual payroll deductions would be reduced to $3,200. Your total Dependent Care Spending Account balance at the end of the year will be $4,000, which includes the $800 subsidy.

Claims information

To file a claim, you will need to obtain a Spending Account Reimbursement Request Form:

- If you are paid by Citibank, you can print a form from CitiWeb, or order a form by calling the Forms & LifeTimes option of the Employee Information & Services Line at 1-800-947-2484. For text telephone service, call 1-800-845-8531; or
- If you are on another U.S. payroll, call your Benefits Service Center. For text telephone service, call 1-800-842-3715.

Follow the directions on the form and mail it to UnitedHealthcare at the address on the form. Do not return claim forms to your employer.

Submit your spending account claims to:

UnitedHealthcare
P.O. Box 925
Albany, NY 12201-0925

Claims must be incurred during the period of time in which you are a participant. A claim is treated as incurred when the service is provided, not necessarily when you pay the provider of the services. In addition, you may not submit claims for a domestic partner who is not considered a tax dependent under Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Single-bill submission

The single-bill submission feature allows employees who are covered by most Citigroup medical and/or MetLife dental plan(s) and who elect a Health Care Spending Account deduction to pay expenses without having to resubmit claims. Your Health Care Spending Account will automatically be debited by the amount necessary to pay the uncovered portion of your claim (e.g., deductibles, copayments, etc.). Employees who have health care coverage through multiple carriers or HMOs should manually submit claims, as stated in Claims information. In addition, you may not submit claims for a domestic partner who is not considered a tax dependent under Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code.

If you would like to use the single-bill submission feature, you must indicate that when you make your enrollment election. If you had single-bill submission in the previous year, you will automatically be enrolled in single-bill submission for the next.

Note: You will not be able to use the single-bill submission feature if you are enrolled in Aetna U.S. Healthcare Managed Choice, CIGNA FlexCare, or an HMO.

Eligibility

Citigroup provides benefits coverage for you, your spouse or qualified domestic partner, and/or eligible dependents.

For employees

If you are a Citigroup employee:

You are considered a Citigroup employee if you work for American Health and Life Company, CitiFinancial, Citigroup Corporate Staff, Citigroup Investment Group, Primerica Financial Services, or National Benefit Life Insurance Company.

- You are eligible to enroll in Citigroup benefits on your date of employment if you are a full-time employee (regularly scheduled to work 40 hours or more a week) of one of the participating employers of Citigroup and you receive a regular semimonthly paycheck;
- You are also eligible to enroll in Citigroup benefits on your date of employment if you are a part-time employee (regularly scheduled to work 20 or more hours a week) of any participating employers of Citigroup Inc. except Primerica Financial Services and National Benefit Life;
- If eligible, you also can enroll your eligible dependents for coverage as of your date of employment;
- If you are eligible to enroll in Citigroup benefits, you also can enroll your eligible dependents in the medical, dental, vision care and group life insurance plans.

If you are a Citibank employee:

You are considered a Citibank employee if you work for Citibank NA and Participating Companies, CitiStreet Institutional Division, or CitiStreet Total Benefit Outsourcing.

- You are eligible to enroll in Citigroup benefits on your date of employment if you are classified as a regular employee of Citibank, N.A. or a participating company or are a member of the Citigroup Corporate Staff on the Citibank payroll. In all cases, you must have been hired to work 20 or more hours a week;
- If eligible, you also can enroll your eligible dependents for coverage as of your date of employment;
- If you are eligible to enroll in Citigroup benefits, you also can enroll your eligible dependents in the medical, dental, vision care and group life insurance plans.

If you both work for Citigroup:

If both you and your spouse or qualified domestic partner are employed by Citigroup or a participating company, neither of you can be covered both as an employee and a dependent for any Citigroup benefit plan.

- Medical and dental — Each of you may be covered under the medical and dental plans as either an employee or a dependent but not both. Either of you may cover your children, but they cannot be covered by both of you.
- Health care spending account — Either of you may be covered under a health care spending account but you may not file more than once for reimbursement of the same eligible expense. Your qualified domestic partner and eligible child(ren) are eligible, provided they are considered tax dependents under Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).

- Dependent care spending account — If you file a joint federal income tax return, you and your spouse together may not contribute more than $5,000 on a pre-tax basis to this account. If you are married and you and your spouse file separate federal income tax returns, the maximum you may contribute is $2,500. Due to federal tax law, qualified domestic partners are not eligible to participate in a dependent care spending account.

For dependents

Your eligible dependents are:

- Your lawfully married spouse or state-recognized common-law spouse;
- Each of your children who is unmarried, relies on you for financial support, and is:
- Under the age of 19 years*; or
- Under the age of 25* and a full-time student (meaning the student is enrolled in courses totaling 12 or more credits per semester) who is attending an accredited school or college. Upon request, you must provide proof of student status in writing to the Claims Administrator. The names, addresses and phone numbers of the health care Claims Administrators are listed in the Plan names and numbers sections of this SPD.

A child primarily relies on you for a majority of his or her financial support if:

- You are providing more than 50% of the child's support; and
- You claim the child as a dependent on your annual tax return filed with the Internal Revenue Service (Form 1040).

*Coverage will remain in effect through December 31 of the year in which the child reaches the maximum age or is no longer a full time student. Coverage will remain in effect through the end of the month in which the child gets married or obtains a full time job.

Eligible dependent children are further defined as:

- Your natural children;
- Your legally adopted children (For purposes of coverage under the medical and dental plans, adopted children will be considered eligible dependents when they are placed in your home in anticipation of adoption, when primary financial support begins, or when the adoption becomes final, whichever occurs first.);
- Your stepchildren who live in your household full-time in a regular parent-child relationship;
- A child permanently residing in your household for whom you are the legal guardian. You must provide proof of guardianship in writing to the Claims Administrator;
- Eligible dependents also include an employee's domestic partner and/or his or her children, provided the children of the domestic partner meet all the other qualifications of dependent children, as described in this section.

As required by the Federal Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1993, any child of a plan participant who is an alternate recipient under a Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO) will be considered as having a right to dependent coverage under the medical and dental plans. In general, QMCSOs are state court orders requiring a parent to provide medical support to an eligible child, for example, in the case of a divorce or separation. For a detailed description of the procedures for a QMCSO, contact the Plans Administration Committee.

If one of your eligible dependent children becomes incapable of self-sustaining employment due to a mental or physical disability and is covered under the medical or dental plan before reaching age 19, or age 25 if a full-time student, this child may continue to be considered an eligible dependent under the medical or dental plan beyond the date his/her eligibility for coverage would otherwise end. You must provide written proof of this incapacity to the Claims Administrator within 31 days after the date eligibility would otherwise end and as requested thereafter. This eligible dependent must still meet all other eligibility qualifications for coverage to be continued.

No person will be covered under this plan both as an employee and as an eligible dependent or as an eligible dependent of more than one employee.

Dependent notification

The first time you enroll in Citigroup benefits, you will be asked to report information about each of your eligible dependents such as name, date of birth, Social Security number and, if over age 19, whether the child is a full-time student or has a mental or physical disability. Without this information on file, you cannot enroll in any dependent coverage.

If your dependent does not have a Social Security number at this time, you can enter dependent information and report the Social Security number after you obtain it.

You also must keep your dependent information current:

- When you enroll during the annual open enrollment period, you will be prompted to make changes to your dependent information; and
- You must report changes in dependent information to your Benefits Service Center when you want to make changes to your coverage or coverage category as a result of a qualified Family status event.

Dependents no longer eligible

Your spouse or qualified domestic partner is eligible for coverage until the last day of the month in which you become legally separated or divorced or submit a Domestic Partnership Termination Form.

Your dependent children are eligible for coverage until the earlier of the following dates:

The last day of the month in which they:

- Become employed full time;
  - Get married; or
  - Become eligible for coverage under any plan as employees.
- or
- December 31 of the year in which they:
    - Reach age 19, if not full-time students (enrolled for 12 or more hours per semester) at an accredited school or college and primarily dependent on you for support, unless incapable of self-sustaining employment due to mental or physical disability;
    - Are over age 19 and stop attending school full time;
    - Reach age 25 if full-time students; or
    - Become able to support themselves after having been incapable of self-sustaining employment due to a mental or physical disability.

Newborns/newly adopted children

Even if you are not enrolled for dependent coverage, Citigroup will pay medical benefits for your newborn child from birth through 31 days.

However, if you have Citigroup medical coverage, you must report this family status change within 31 days of the child's birth to add the child to your coverage. If you do not report the addition of your child during the first 31 days, benefits will not be payable for the child after the 31 days following the date of the child's birth, and you will generally have to wait until the next annual open enrollment period to enroll the child in medical coverage unless another event occurs that would permit coverage to begin at an earlier time. In this case, no payment will be made for any day of confinement, treatment, services, or supplies given to the child after these initial 31 days. No other benefit or provision of the medical plan will apply to the child.

This includes, but is not limited to, the following provisions:

- Extension of benefits; and
- Continuation of coverage.

Remember, you must report information about a new dependent even if you already have family coverage, or else your new dependent won't be covered.

For domestic partners

Where available, Citigroup allows you to cover your domestic partner and/or his or her children in the following plans:

- Medical (domestic partner benefits are not available through some HMOs);
- Dental;
- Health care spending account, provided your domestic partner and eligible dependent child(ren) are considered tax dependents under Section 152 of the IRC;
- Group universal life (GUL) insurance for domestic partners and term life insurance for children;
- Vision care plan; and
- Business travel accident insurance.

You cannot cover both a spouse and a domestic partner. To enroll a domestic partner and/or his or her children, an employee must sign an affidavit affirming that he or she meets Citigroup's eligibility criteria for domestic partner coverage, and complete a Certification of Domestic Partner's Tax Status. This form is available on CitiWeb or by calling your Benefit Service Center.

Your domestic partner can be of the same or opposite sex. To qualify for coverage as a domestic partner, you and your domestic partner must meet all of the following criteria:

- Currently reside together and intend to do so permanently;
- Have lived together for at least six consecutive months prior to enrollment and intend to do so permanently;
- Have mutually agreed to be responsible for each other's common welfare;
- Be at least 18 years of age and mentally competent to consent to contract;
- Are not related by blood to a degree of closeness that would prohibit marriage were you of the opposite sex;

- Neither you nor your partner is legally married to another person;
- Neither you nor your partner is in a domestic partner relationship with anyone else; and
- Are in a relationship that is intended to be permanent and in which each of you is the sole domestic partner of the other.

To qualify for coverage, your domestic partner's unmarried child(ren) must be:

- The biological or adopted child of your domestic partner, a child for whom your domestic partner has legal guardianship, or a child who has been placed in your home for adoption; and
- Living with you and your domestic partner on a full-time basis, or living away at school; and
- Unmarried and under the age of 19*; or
- Unmarried and between the ages of 19 and 25* and attending school full-time; or
- Beyond age 19 and has a mental or physical disability.

*Coverage will remain in effect through December 31 of the year in which the child reaches the maximum age or is no longer a full-time student. Coverage will remain in effect through the end of the month in which the child gets married or obtains a full-time job.

Termination of relationship

If you have enrolled your domestic partner and his or her children for medical, dental and/or vision care coverage and you terminate your domestic partnership, you must notify Citigroup by completing a Termination of Domestic Partnership Form within 31 days of the event. Contact your Benefit Service Center for this form. As a result, your domestic partner will be eligible to continue medical, dental, vision care and/or health care spending account coverage at his or her expense for a period of 36 months.

This coverage will be similar to COBRA coverage offered to spouses and other covered dependents, excluding domestic partners and their children. See the COBRA section for more information.

If you enroll a partner and terminate the domestic partner relationship, you must wait six months before enrolling a new domestic partner in a medical, dental or vision care plan sponsored by Citigroup.

Enrollment

You can enroll in Citigroup coverage within 31 days of the time you first become eligible or during the annual open enrollment period. The coverage available to you will be listed on your enrollment materials along with the enrollment deadline and how to enroll. You can enroll in any or all of the plans offered to you. For the medical and dental plans, you must choose a “coverage category.” The four coverage categories are:

- Employee only;
- Employee + child(ren);
- Employee + spouse or domestic partner; and
- Employee + family.

You can choose a different coverage category for medical and dental. For example, you might enroll in “Employee only” coverage for medical, since your spouse has medical coverage at his or her employment and “Employee + spouse” for dental coverage since your spouse’s employer does not offer dental coverage.

Each category has a different cost. In addition, your cost for medical coverage will depend on your total compensation band as defined in this SPD. You will find your costs in your enrollment materials.

If you elect vision care coverage, you must also designate a level of coverage (one person, two people, or three or more people).

Other coverage

If you are eligible to enroll in coverage elsewhere, for example, through a spouse’s or other employer’s plan, you can compare the Citigroup coverage and costs with the other coverage. You may decide to enroll in some plans offered through Citigroup and some from the other source. For example, you might enroll in medical coverage elsewhere and in dental coverage from Citigroup.

However, if you are enrolling in coverage from two sources, be sure you understand how benefits are paid when you are covered by two group medical plans or group dental plans. In many instances, you may pay for coverage from two group plans but you will not receive double benefits or even be reimbursed for 100% of your costs as a result of what is called “coordination of benefits.” See Coordination of benefits for the guidelines on whose plan pays first.

When coverage begins

If:	Then:
You enroll for yourself and your eligible dependents when first eligible.	You have 31 days to enroll yourself and your eligible dependents. Coverage and contributions will be retroactive to your date of hire or date of eligibility.
You do not enroll when first eligible.	Core benefits begin on your date of hire or date of eligibility, if later. (For more information about core benefits, see If you do not enroll .) All other benefits will begin on January 1 of the following year, provided you enroll during the annual enrollment period.
You enroll for yourself and your eligible dependents during the annual open enrollment period.	Coverage will begin on January 1 of the following year.
You enroll in medical, dental, vision care, and/or spending account coverage for yourself or a new dependent within 31 days of a family status change.	Coverage for yourself or your dependent(s) will begin on the date of the family status event, such as the date of your marriage or divorce, your biological child's birth date, or the date your adopted child was placed for adoption.

If you do not enroll

If you do not enroll in Citigroup benefits when first eligible, Citigroup will provide only the following coverage — known as core benefits — at no cost to you.

- Basic life insurance equal to your total compensation, up to $500,000, on your date of eligibility;
- Short-term disability (STD) coverage:
  - For Citigroup employees: Replaces your annual base salary for an approved disability leave of up to 26 weeks. The percentage of salary replacement (100% or 66 -2/3%) will depend on your length of service. Your annual base salary at the start of your disability leave will be used to calculate your benefit. You are not eligible for salary increase during an approved STD leave.
  - For Citibank employees: Replaces 66-2/3% of your annual base salary for an approved disability leave of up to six months. There are no service requirements for this benefit. Your annual base salary at the start of your disability leave will be used to calculate your benefit. You aren't eligible for salary increases during an approved STD leave.
- Basic long-term disability (LTD) coverage to replace 50% of total compensation, up to $100,000 in total compensation starting on the 181st day of an approved disability. Total compensation is determined on your date of eligibility and then each May 1 after that. These coverage amounts will be in effect for the calendar year unless your total compensation decreases due to a change in status from full-time to part-time employment or because you begin to receive LTD benefits.

Changing your coverage

During the year, you may want to change your coverage or coverage category. Citigroup has specific rules about when you can change your coverage.

For medical, dental and vision care coverage and the Health Care and Dependent Care Spending Accounts — the coverage you pay for with before-tax dollars — you can make changes only during the open enrollment period or as a result of certain events, such as marriage, the birth or adoption of a child, divorce, or the death of a dependent. These events are called family status events. You must make any family status-related changes to your coverage within 31 days of the event. See Family status event.

Type of coverage:	When you can change your coverage or coverage category:
Medical and dental	The annual open enrollment period or within 31 days of a family status event.  Note: You can change your medical or dental plan election only as a result of your relocation out of your medical or dental plan's service area.
Vision care	The annual open enrollment period or within 31 days of a family status event.
Health Care and Dependent Care Spending Accounts	The annual open enrollment period or within 31 days of a family status event.

Midyear election changes

The federal government recently clarified the rules that govern when you can change benefit coverage elections outside of open enrollment. These rules apply to coverage elections you make for your medical, dental, vision care and spending accounts coverages. In general, the benefit plans and coverage levels you choose at open enrollment remain in effect for the following calendar year. However, you may be able to change your elections between annual enrollment periods if you have a family status event or other applicable event, as further explained below.

Family status events

The following is a list of family status events that will allow you to make a change to your elections (as long as you meet the consistency requirements, as described below):

- Legal marital status: Any event that changes your legal marital status, including marriage, divorce, death of a spouse, legal separation, or annulment;
- Domestic partnership status: You enter into or terminate a domestic partnership;
- Number of dependents: Any event that changes your number of tax dependents, including birth, death, adoption, and placement for adoption;
- Employment status: Any event that changes your, your spouse's, or your other dependent's employment status that results in gaining or losing eligibility for coverage. Examples include:
  - Beginning or terminating employment;
  - A strike or lockout;
  - Starting or returning from an unpaid leave of absence;
  - Changing from part-time to full-time employment or vice versa; and
  - A change in work location.
- Dependent status: Any event that causes your tax dependent to become eligible or ineligible for coverage because of age, student status, or similar circumstances;
- Residence: A change in the place of residence for you, your spouse or another dependent if outside your medical or dental plan's network service area.

Consistency requirements

The changes you make to your medical, dental, vision care and spending account coverages must be “due to and consistent with” your family status event. To satisfy the federally required “consistency rule,” your family status event and corresponding change in coverage must meet both of the following requirements:

Effect on eligibility: Except for the Dependent Care Spending Account, the family status event must affect eligibility for coverage under the plan or under a plan sponsored by the employer of your spouse or other dependent. For this purpose, eligibility for coverage is affected if you become eligible (or ineligible) for coverage or if the family status event results in an increase or decrease in the number of your dependents who may benefit from coverage under the plan.

For the Dependent Care Spending Account, the family status event must affect the amount of dependent care expenses eligible for reimbursement. For example, your child reaches age 13, and dependent care expenses are no longer eligible for reimbursement.

Corresponding election change: The election change must correspond with the family status event. For example, if your dependent loses eligibility for coverage under the terms of the health plan, you may cancel medical coverage only for that dependent.

Coverage & cost events

In some instances, you can make changes to your benefits coverage for other reasons, such as midyear events affecting your cost or coverage, as described below.

Coverage events

Medical and dental coverage: If Citigroup adds or eliminates a plan option in the middle of the plan year, or if Citigroup-sponsored coverage is significantly limited or ends, you and your eligible dependents can elect different coverage in accordance with Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations.

For example, if there is an overall reduction under a plan option that reduces coverage to participants in general, participants enrolled in that plan option may elect coverage under another option providing similar coverage (if the other plan option permits). Additionally, if Citigroup adds an HMO or other plan option midyear, participants can drop their existing coverage and enroll in the new plan option (if the new plan option permits). You and/or your eligible dependents may also enroll in the new plan option even if not previously enrolled for coverage at all (if the new plan option permits).

Also, if an election change is permitted during a different open enrollment period applicable to a plan of another employer (or, if applicable, to another plan sponsored by Citigroup), you may make a corresponding midyear election change. This rule applies to the medical, dental and vision care plans, as well as the Dependent Care Spending Account.

Lastly, if another employer’s plan allows your spouse or other dependent to change his or her elections in accordance with IRS regulations, you may make a corresponding midyear election change to your coverage.

Dependent Care Spending Account: If your dependent care provider reduces or increases the number of hours worked, you may make a corresponding change to your Dependent Care Spending Account election. For example, if your child starts school, causing a reduction in the number of hours he or she is in the care of a dependent care provider, you may decrease your Dependent Care Spending Account election.

Cost events

You must contact Citigroup within 31 days of a cost event. Otherwise, your next opportunity to make changes will be the next enrollment period or when you have a family status event or other applicable event, whichever occurs first.

Medical and dental coverage costs: If your cost for medical, dental or vision care coverage increases or decreases significantly during the year, you may make a corresponding election change. For example, you may elect another plan option with similar coverage, or drop coverage if no coverage is available. Additionally, if there is a significant decrease in the cost of a plan during the year, you may enroll in that plan, even if you declined to enroll in that plan earlier.

Any change in the cost of your plan option that is not significant will result in an automatic increase or decrease, as applicable, in your share of the total cost.

Dependent Care Spending Account: If you change your dependent care provider midyear, you may change your Dependent Care Spending Account contributions to correspond with the new provider's charges. Similarly, if your dependent care provider (other than a provider who is your relative) raises or lowers its rates midyear, you may increase or decrease your contributions.

Other rules

Medicare or Medicaid entitlement: You may change an election for medical coverage midyear if you, your spouse, or eligible dependent becomes entitled to coverage under Part A or Part B of Medicare, or under Medicaid. However, you are limited to reducing your medical/dental coverage only for the person who becomes entitled to Medicare or Medicaid, and you are limited to adding medical/dental coverage only for the person who loses eligibility for Medicare or Medicaid.

Family and Medical Leave Act: You may drop medical (including the Health Care Spending Account), dental and vision care coverage midyear when you begin a leave, subject to the provisions of the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA). If you drop coverage or if you fail to make payments for benefit coverage during your FMLA leave, when you return from the FMLA leave, you have the right to be reinstated to the same elections you made prior to taking your FMLA leave.

Special note regarding domestic partner coverage: The events qualifying you to make a midyear election change described in this section also apply to events related to a qualified domestic partner. However, IRS rules generally do not permit you to make a midyear change "on a pre-tax basis" for such events unless they involve a tax dependent. Thus, if you make a midyear change due to an event involving your domestic partner, that change must generally be made "on a post-tax basis," unless your domestic partner can be claimed as your dependent for federal income tax purposes. (Exceptions may be made if your domestic partner makes an election change under his or her employer's plan in accordance with IRS regulations.) Please see IRS Publication 502 for a discussion of the definition of a tax dependent. The publication is available at www.irs.gov/forms\_pubs.

Changing your coverage status

You must make changes to your health benefits within 31 days of a family status event by calling your Benefit Service Center. The change will be effective on the date of your status change.

Your contributions

Your contributions for medical, dental, vision care, the Health Care Spending Account, and the Dependent Care Spending Account are taken on a before-tax basis and are based on the plan chosen and coverage category. Your total compensation is also used to determine your contribution for medical coverage.

For purposes of calculating your medical cost and coverage amounts for the following year, total compensation is determined each year on May 1, or your date of eligibility, if later. See your personal enrollment worksheet for the amount of your total compensation.

Total compensation bands on which employee contributions for medical coverage are based:
$0.00	– $19,999.99
$20,000.00	– $24,999.99
$25,000.00	– $39,999.99
$40,000.00	– $59,999.99
$60,000.00	– $79,999.99
$80,000.00	– $99,999.99
$100,000.00	– $149,999.99
$150,000.00	– $249,999.99
$250,000.00	– $499,999.99
More than $500,000

Your total compensation may be made up of one or more of the following:

- Base pay: Annual rate of pay. For hourly employees, base pay is defined as your hourly rate times scheduled weekly hours times 52 weeks;
- Bonus: A bonus, excluding any sign-on bonus;
- Differentials: Off-hour premiums and other premiums delivered as a percentage of base pay;
- Incentives/commissions: Nonbonus payments that are based on performance and productivity and are generally recognized as part of a bona fide incentive plan; excludes, for example, spot awards, recognition programs, relocation, gross-ups, imputed income, and benefits; and
- Overtime: Included for some plans but not for any benefit described here.

Your total compensation amount will apply for the entire calendar year unless it decreases due to a change in status from full-time to part-time employment or because you begin to receive LTD benefits.

Before-tax contributions

When you choose coverage that requires a payroll contribution, most of your contributions are made with before-tax dollars. This means your contributions come out of your pay before federal income and employment taxes are deducted. Before-tax contributions reduce your gross salary, which lowers your taxable income and, therefore, the amount of income tax you must pay. Contributions may, however, be subject to state or local income taxes in certain jurisdictions.

Social Security taxes

Each year you pay Social Security taxes on a certain level of your earnings, called the wage base. Since the before-tax dollars you use for some of your plan contributions are not considered part of your pay for Social Security tax purposes, your Social Security taxes will also be reduced if your pay falls below the wage base after these before-tax dollars are subtracted from your total earnings. In this case, your future Social Security benefit may be smaller than if after-tax dollars were used for those purposes.

Domestic partners

The cost of coverage for a domestic partner is the same as the cost for a spouse. The cost of coverage for a domestic partner's child(ren) is the same as the cost for a dependent child. For the cost of domestic partner coverage in a particular plan, call your Benefits Service Center.

If your domestic partner and his or her child(ren) qualify as your dependents under Section 152 of the IRC, your contributions for domestic partner medical and dental coverage will be taken before taxes are withheld. However, if your partner and his or her child(ren) do not qualify as dependents under Section 152, you will pay for their medical and/or dental coverage with after-tax dollars.

Tax implications

According to federal tax law, your taxes may be affected when you enroll your domestic partner in Citigroup coverage.

If your domestic partner does NOT qualify as a tax dependent: If your domestic partner and his or her child(ren) do not satisfy the definition of a dependent under Section 152 of the IRC, the cost of any medical and/or dental coverage for your domestic partner and/or his or her child(ren) is considered "imputed income" and will be shown on your pay statement and Form W-2. You will pay taxes on the amount of imputed income.

If your domestic partner qualifies as a tax dependent: If your domestic partner and his or her child(ren) qualify as dependents under Section 152 of the IRC, your contributions for their medical and/or dental coverage will be taken before taxes are withheld, and there are no tax implications for you.

Since requirements are complex, you should consult a tax professional for advice on your personal situation.

Generally, a member of your household qualifies as your tax dependent under the IRC if:

- You provide more than 50% of his or her financial support;
- The individual lives with you for the entire year; and
- The individual is a citizen or resident of the United States.

To review the qualifications of a Section 152 dependent, see IRS Publication 501 Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information at www.irs.gov/forms\_pubs/pubs.html.

Coordination of benefits

Coordination of benefits provisions apply to the medical and dental plans only and are described in this section.

All payments under the plans described in this SPD will be coordinated with benefits payable under any other group benefit plans that provide coverage for you or your dependent(s). Coordination of benefits prevents duplication and works to the advantage of all members of the group.

When you or your dependent(s) are eligible for benefits under another group plan, the eligible expenses under this plan will be determined. One of the plans involved will pay benefits first — the Primary Plan — and the other plan(s) will pay benefits next — the Secondary Plan(s).

Allowable Expense: Includes any necessary, reasonable, and customary expense that would be covered in full or in part under the Citigroup plan. When a plan provides benefits in the form of furnishing services or supplies rather than cash payments, the service or supply will not be considered an allowable expense or a benefit paid.

Plan: Most plans under which group health benefits are provided, including group insurance closed panel or other forms of group or group-type coverage (whether insured or uninsured), medical care components of group long-term care contracts (such as skilled nursing care), medical benefits under group or individual automobile contracts, Workers' Compensation, and Medicare or other governmental benefits, as permitted by law.

Primary Plan: A benefit plan that has primary liability for a claim.

Secondary Plan: A benefit plan that adjusts its benefits by the amount payable under the Primary Plan.

This plan will be the Primary Plan on claims:

- For you, if you are not covered as an employee by another plan;
- For your spouse, if your spouse is not covered as an employee by another plan; and
- For your dependent children, the birthdays of the parents are used to determine which coverage is primary. The coverage of the parent whose birthday (month and day) comes before the other parent's birthday in the calendar year will be considered primary coverage (For example, if your spouse's birthday is in January and your birthday is in May, your spouse's plan is the primary plan for your children). If both parents have the same birthday, then the coverage that has been in effect the longest is primary. This rule applies only if the parents are married to each other.

If the Citigroup plan is the Primary Plan, it will pay benefits first. Benefits will be calculated according to the terms of the plan and will not be reduced due to benefits payable under other plans.

If the Citigroup plan is the Secondary Plan, benefits under the Citigroup plan may be reduced. The Claims Administrator will determine the amount the Citigroup plan normally would pay. Then the amount payable under the Primary Plan for the same expenses will be subtracted from the amount the Citigroup plan would have normally paid. The Citigroup plan will pay you the difference. If the Citigroup plan is Secondary, you will never be paid more for the same expenses under both the Citigroup plan and the Primary Plan than the Citigroup plan would have paid alone.

When the Citigroup plan is Secondary and the patient is covered under an HMO, benefits under the Citigroup plan will be limited to the copayment, if any, for which you would have been responsible under the HMO, whether or not the services provided are rendered by the HMO.

When a child is claimed as a dependent by parents who are separated or divorced, the Primary Plan is the plan of the parent who has court-ordered financial responsibility for the dependent child's health care expenses. Otherwise, the Citigroup plan will be Secondary. When a child's parents are separated or divorced and there is no court decree, then benefits will be determined in the following order:

- The plan of the parent with custody of the child;
- The plan of the spouse of the parent with custody of the child;
- The plan of the parent not having custody of the child.

In the event that a legal conflict exists between two plans as to which is Primary and which is Secondary, the plan that has covered the patient for the longer time will be considered Primary. When a plan does not have a coordination of benefits provision, the rules in this provision are not applicable and such plan's coverage is automatically considered Primary.

Coordination with Medicare

When you or your eligible dependents are entitled to Medicare and are covered under the Citigroup plan, the Citigroup plan continues to be the Primary Plan. The Citigroup plan is Primary for the following situations:

- Eligible active employees age 65 and over and who are entitled to Medicare benefits;
- Dependent spouses age 65 and over who participate in the Citigroup plan on the basis of current employment status of the employee and who are entitled to Medicare benefits;
- Social Security disabled participants who are covered by the Citigroup plan on the basis of your active employment status with Citigroup and who are entitled to Medicare benefits; and
- For the first 30 months of Medicare entitlement, certain individuals who become eligible for Medicare on the basis of having end-stage renal disease (ESRD).

If you are entitled to Medicare and want Medicare as your primary coverage, you must decline Citigroup medical coverage. From that point forward, Medicare will be your only coverage, and no benefits will be provided by the Citigroup plan.

If you or a covered family member become covered by Medicare after a COBRA election is made, your COBRA coverage will end.

Facility of payment

When benefit payments that would have been made under a Citigroup plan have been made under another plan, the Citigroup plan has the right to pay the other plan the amount that satisfies the intent of the provision. Any payment made will be considered payment of benefits under the Citigroup plan and, to the extent of such payments, the Citigroup plan's obligation to pay benefits will be satisfied.

Right of recovery

The Citigroup plan has the right to recover any payment made in excess of the maximum amount payable under this provision. The Citigroup plan may recover from one or more of the following entities in an effort to make the plan whole:

- Any persons it paid or for whom payment was made;
- Any insurer, and any other organization; or
- Any entity that was thereby enriched.

Release of information

Certain facts are needed to apply the rules of this provision. The Claims Administrator has the right to decide which facts are needed. The Claims Administrator may get the needed facts from or give them to any other organization or person. The Claims Administrator need not tell, or get the consent of, any person to do this. At the time a claim for benefits is made, the Claims Administrator will determine the information necessary to operate this provision.

Recovery provisions

Recovery provisions apply to the medical and dental plans and are described in this section.

Refund of Overpayments

Whenever payments have been made by the plan with respect to covered or non-covered expenses in a total amount, at any time, in excess of the maximum amount payable under the plan's provision, you or your dependent(s) must make a refund to the plan in the amount paid in excess of the amount payable under the plan and help the plan obtain the refund from another person or organization.

If you or your dependent(s) or any other person or organization that was paid does not promptly refund the full amount, the plan may reduce the amount of any future benefits that are payable. The reductions will equal the amount it should have paid. In the case of recovery from a source other than the plan, the refund equals the amount of recovery up to the amount paid under the plan. The plan may have other rights in addition to the right to reduce future benefits.

Reimbursement

This section applies when a covered person recovers damages, by settlement, verdict or otherwise, for an injury, sickness or other condition. If the covered person has made, or in the future may make, such a recovery, including a recovery from an insurance carrier, the plan will not cover either the reasonable value of the services to treat such an injury or illness or the treatment of such an injury or illness.

However, if the plan does pay or provide benefits for such an injury, sickness or other condition, the covered person, or the legal representatives, estate or heirs of the covered person, shall promptly reimburse the plan from any settlement, verdict or insurance proceeds received by the covered person (or by the legal representatives, estate or heirs of the covered person), for the reasonable value of the medical benefits paid for or provided by the plan to the covered person.

In order to secure the right of the plan under this section, the covered person hereby:

- Grants to the plan a first priority lien against the proceeds of any such settlement, verdict or other amounts received by the covered person; and
- Assigns to the plan any benefits the covered person may have under any automobile policy or other coverage, to the extent of the plan's claim for reimbursement.

The covered person shall sign and deliver, at the request of the plan or its agents, any documents needed to protect such lien or to effect such assignment of benefits.

The covered person shall cooperate with the plan and its agents, and shall sign and deliver such documents as the plan or its agents reasonably request to protect the plan's right of reimbursement, provide any relevant information, and take such actions as the plan or its agents reasonably request to assist the plan making a full recovery of the reasonable value of the benefits provided. The covered person shall not take any action that prejudices the plan's right of reimbursement.

The plan shall be responsible only for those legal fees and expenses to which it agrees in writing, and shall not otherwise bear the costs of legal representatives retained by the covered person.

Subrogation

This section applies when another party is, or may be considered, liable for a covered person's injury, sickness or other condition (including insurance carriers who are so liable) and the plan has provided or paid for benefits.

The plan is subrogated to the rights of the covered person against any party liable for the covered person's injury or illness or for the payment for the medical treatment of such injury or occupational illness (including any insurance carrier), to the extent of the reasonable value of the medical benefits provided to the covered person under the plan. The plan may assert this right independently of the covered person.

The covered person is obligated to cooperate with the plan and its agents in order to protect the plan's subrogation rights. Cooperation means providing the plan or its agents with any relevant information requested by them, signing and delivering such documents as the plan or its agents reasonably request to secure the plan's subrogation claim, and obtaining the consent of the plan or its agents before releasing any party from liability for payment of medical expenses.

If the covered person enters into litigation or settlement negotiations regarding the obligations of other parties, the covered person must not prejudice, in any way, the subrogation rights of the plan under this section.

The costs of legal representation retained by the plan in matters related to subrogation shall be borne solely by the plan. The costs of legal representation retained by the covered person shall be borne solely by the covered person.

When coverage ends

Your coverage automatically will terminate on the earliest of the following dates:

- The date the Citigroup plan terminates;
- The last day for which the necessary contributions are made;
- Midnight of the date your employment terminates, you retire, you die or you otherwise cease to be eligible for coverage; or
- The date benefits paid on behalf of a participant equal the lifetime maximum benefit under the Citigroup plan. Coverage for eligible dependents who have not reached their lifetime maximum will not be affected.

Your eligible dependent's coverage automatically will terminate on the earliest of the following dates:

- Midnight of the date your coverage terminates;
- The date you elect to terminate your eligible dependent's coverage;
- The last day for which the necessary contributions are made;
- The date the eligible dependent(s) ceases to be eligible for coverage. Coverage will remain in effect through December 31 of the year in which the child reaches the maximum age or is no longer a full-time student. Coverage will remain in effect through the end of the month in which the child gets married or obtains a full-time job;
- The date the eligible dependent(s) is covered as an employee under the plan;
- The date the eligible dependent(s) is covered as the dependent of another employee under the plan;
- The date the eligible dependent(s) enters the armed forces of any country or international organization; or
- The date the dependent is no longer eligible for coverage under a QMCSO.

Continuing coverage

If you are on an approved leave of absence, call your Benefit Service Center about your rights to continue medical, dental, vision care and/or spending account coverage.

If you are unable to work because of total disability, you and your eligible dependent(s) may continue to be covered for 26 weeks. After you have been disabled for 26 weeks, if you are still disabled and/or long-term disability coverage is pending, your coverage will remain in effect. If you are no longer disabled and you do not return to work, your employment will terminate and your coverage and your eligible dependent's coverage will terminate.

If you have been employed by Citigroup for less than two years, you may continue medical, dental, vision care and/or spending account coverage for six months.

If, however, you have been employed by Citigroup and have been performing your regular employment duties in the customary manner for two or more years, you and your eligible dependents may continue coverage under a Citigroup plan for the period of time equal to the lesser of:

- Your length of service with Citigroup or any of its participating employers; or
- Five years.

Additionally, if you have more than five years of service with Citigroup or any of its participating employers, you and your eligible dependent(s) may continue medical coverage until you are eligible for Medicare solely by reason of reaching a particular age.

Regardless of the established leave policies mentioned above, as of August 5, 1993, the Citigroup plan shall at all times comply with the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 as promulgated in regulations issued by the Department of Labor.

Continuing coverage during FMLA

The federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) allows eligible employees to take up to 12 weeks of leave each year for serious illness, the birth or adoption of a child, or to care for a spouse, child, or parent who has a serious health condition.

If you take an unpaid leave of absence that qualifies under FMLA, medical, dental, and vision coverage for you and your dependents and your participation in the Health Care Spending Account may continue as long as you continue to contribute your share of the cost of coverage during the leave.

Note that your monthly contributions during a leave are made on an after-tax basis.

If you lose any coverage during an FMLA leave because you did not make the required contributions, you may reenroll when you return from your leave. Your coverage will start again on the first day after you return to work and make your required contributions.

If you do not return to work at the end of your FMLA leave, you will be entitled to purchase continuation coverage for your medical, dental, vision and health care spending account benefits. If your employment is terminated while you are on an FMLA leave, you may also be eligible to continue your insurance coverage under COBRA.

Continuing coverage during military leave

If you take a military leave, whether for active duty or for training, you are entitled to continue your health coverage (including medical, dental, vision, and Health Care Spending Account) for up to 18 months as long as you give Citigroup advance notice (with certain exceptions) of the leave, and provided that your total leave, when added to any prior periods of military leave from Citigroup, does not exceed five years (with certain exceptions).

If the entire length of the leave is 30 days or less, you will not be required to pay any more than the portion you paid before the leave. If the entire length of the leave is 31 days or longer, you may be required to pay up to 102% of the entire amount (including both company and employee contributions) necessary to cover an employee who does not go on military leave. Your other benefits will be terminated at the beginning of your military leave.

If you take a military leave, but your coverage under the plan is terminated, for instance, because you do not elect the extended coverage, you will be treated as if you had not taken a military leave upon re-employment when the Plans Administration Committee determines whether an exclusion or waiting period applies once you are reinstated to the plan.

If you are on military leave for less than 18 months and you do not return to work at the end of your leave, you may be entitled to purchase continuation coverage for the remaining months, up to a total of 18 months.

COBRA

A federal law, the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA), requires that most employers sponsoring group health plans offer employees and eligible dependents the opportunity for a temporary extension of health coverage (called “continuation coverage”) at group rates in certain instances where coverage under the plan would otherwise end (called “qualifying events”). The following information is intended to inform you of your rights and obligations under the continuation coverage provisions of the law.

You do not have to show that you are insurable to choose continuation coverage. However, continuation coverage under COBRA is provided subject to your eligibility for coverage. Citigroup reserves the right to terminate your coverage retroactively if you are determined to be ineligible under the terms of the plan.

You will have to pay the entire premium plus a 2% administrative fee for your continuation coverage. There is a grace period of at least 30 days for the payment of the regularly scheduled premium. A 45-day grace period applies for your first premium payment.

Who is covered

If you are covered by a Citigroup or Citibank-sponsored medical, dental, vision care, or Health Care Spending Account, you have a right to choose this continuation coverage if you lose your group health coverage because of a reduction in your hours of employment or the termination of your employment (for reasons other than gross misconduct on your part). If you terminate employment following a leave of absence qualifying under the Family and Medical Leave Act, the event that will trigger continuation coverage is the earlier of the date that you indicate you will not be returning to work following the leave or the last day of the FMLA leave period.

If you are the spouse of an employee and are covered by a Citigroup or Citibank-sponsored medical, dental, vision care, or Health Care Spending Account on the day before the qualifying event, you are a qualified beneficiary and have the right to choose continuation coverage for yourself if you lose group health coverage under a Citigroup-sponsored group health plan for any of the following four reasons:

- The death of your spouse;
- The termination of your spouse's employment (for reasons other than your spouse's gross misconduct) or reduction in your spouse's hours of employment;
- Divorce or legal separation from your spouse; or
- Your spouse becomes entitled to Medicare.

If you are a covered dependent child of an employee covered by a Citigroup or Citibank-sponsored medical, dental, vision care, or Health Care Spending Account on the day before the qualifying event, you also are a qualified beneficiary and have the right to continuation coverage if group health coverage under such plan is lost for any of the following five reasons:

- The death of the employee;
- The termination of the employee's employment (for reasons other than the employee's gross misconduct) or reduction in the employee's hours of employment;
- The employee's divorce or legal separation;
- The employee becomes entitled to Medicare; or
- The dependent ceases to be a “dependent child” under the Citigroup or Citibank-sponsored medical, dental, vision, or Health Care Spending Account.

If the covered employee elects continuation coverage and then has a child (either by birth, adoption, or placement for adoption) during that period of continuation coverage, the new child is also eligible to become a qualified beneficiary. In accordance with the terms of the employer-sponsored group health plan and the requirements of federal law, these qualified beneficiaries can be added to COBRA coverage upon proper notification to Citigroup of the birth or adoption.

If the covered employee fails to notify Citigroup in a timely fashion (in accordance with the terms of the Citigroup-sponsored group health plans), the covered employee will not be offered the option to elect COBRA coverage for the child. Newly acquired dependents (other than children born to, adopted by, or placed for adoption with the employee) will not be considered qualified beneficiaries but may be added to the employee's continuation coverage.

Separate Elections: Each qualified beneficiary has an independent election right for COBRA coverage. For example, if there is a choice among types of coverage, each qualified beneficiary who is eligible for continuation of coverage is entitled to make a separate election among the types of coverage. Thus, a spouse or dependent child is entitled to elect continuation coverage even if the covered employee does not make that election. Similarly, a spouse or dependent child may elect different coverage than the employee elects.

Your duties

Under the law, the employee or a family member has the responsibility to inform Citigroup of a divorce, legal separation, or a child losing dependent status under the Citigroup or Citibank-sponsored medical, dental, vision, or Health Care Spending Account. This notice must be provided within 60 days from the date of the divorce, legal separation or a child losing dependent status (or, if later, the date coverage would normally be lost because of the event).

If the employee or a family member fails to provide this notice to Citigroup during this 60-day notice period, any family member who loses coverage will not be offered the option to elect continuation coverage. The notice must be in writing.

- For Citigroup employees: Send the notice to H.R. Connection, One Tower Square – 1PB, Hartford, CT 06183
- For Citibank employees: Send the notice to Citigroup Service Center, P.O. Box 785004, 2300 Discovery Drive, Orlando, FL 32878.

When Citigroup is notified that one of these events has happened, Citigroup in turn will notify you that you have the right to choose continuation coverage. If you or your family member fails to notify Citigroup and any claims are mistakenly paid for expenses incurred after the date coverage would normally be lost because of the divorce, legal separation, or a child losing dependent status, then the employee and family members will be required to reimburse the employer-sponsored group health plans for any claims mistakenly paid.

Citigroup's duties

Qualified beneficiaries will be notified of the right to elect continuation coverage automatically (without any action required by the employee or a family member) if any of the following events occurs that will result in a loss of coverage: The employee's death, termination (for reasons other than gross misconduct), reduction in hours of employment, or Medicare entitlement.

Electing COBRA

To elect or inquire about COBRA coverage, contact your Benefit Service Center.

Under the law, you must elect continuation coverage within 60 days from the date you would lose coverage because of one of the events described earlier, or, if later, 60 days after Citigroup provides you notice of your right to elect continuation coverage. An employee or family member who does not choose continuation coverage within the time period described above will lose the right to elect continuation coverage.

If you choose continuation coverage, Citigroup is required to give you coverage that, as of the time coverage is being provided, is identical to the coverage provided under the plan to similarly situated employees or family members. This means that if the coverage for similarly situated employees or family members is modified, your coverage will be modified. "Similarly situated" refers to a current employee or dependent who has not had a qualifying event.

Duration of COBRA

The law requires that you be afforded the opportunity to maintain continuation coverage for 36 months, unless you lost group health coverage because of a termination of employment or reduction in hours. In that case, the required continuation coverage period is 18 months. Additional qualifying events (such as a death, divorce, legal separation, or Medicare entitlement) may occur while the continuation coverage is in effect.

These events can result in an extension of an 18-month continuation period to 36 months, but in no event will coverage last beyond 36 months from the date of the event that originally made a qualified beneficiary eligible to elect coverage. You should notify Citigroup if a second qualifying event occurs during your continuation coverage period.

When coverage ends, generally you can't convert your coverage to an individual medical policy. However, some HMOs do offer conversion to individual coverage. Contact your HMO directly.

Special Rules for Disability. The 18 months may be extended to 29 months if the employee or covered family member is determined by the Social Security Administration to be disabled (for Social Security disability purposes) at any time during the first 60 days of continuation coverage. This 11-month extension is available to all family members who are qualified beneficiaries due to termination or reduction in hours of employment, even those who are not disabled. To benefit from the extension, the qualified beneficiary must inform Citigroup within 60 days of the Social Security determination of disability and before the end of the original 18-month continuation coverage period. If, during continued coverage, the Social Security Administration determines that the qualified beneficiary is no longer disabled, the individual must inform Citigroup of this redetermination within 30 days of the date it is made at which time the 11-month extension will end.

If a qualified beneficiary is disabled and another qualifying event occurs within the 29-month continuation period, then the continuation coverage period is 36 months after the termination of employment or reduction in hours.

Medicare. If you lose coverage (medical, dental, vision care, or Health Care Spending Account) due to your termination of employment or reduction in hours, your covered family member's COBRA coverage will not end before 36 months from the date you become covered by Medicare.

Early termination of COBRA

The law provides that your continuation coverage may be cut short prior to the expiration of the 18-, 29-, or 36-month period for any of the following five reasons:

- Citigroup no longer provides group health coverage to any of its employees;
- The premium for continuation coverage is not paid on time (within the applicable grace period);
- The qualified beneficiary becomes covered — after the date COBRA is elected — under another group health plan (whether or not as an employee) that does not contain any applicable exclusion or limitation for any preexisting condition of the individual;
- The qualified beneficiary becomes entitled to Medicare after the date COBRA is elected; or
- Coverage has been extended for up to 29 months due to disability, and there has been a final determination made by the disability carrier that the individual is no longer disabled.

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) restricts the extent to which group health plans may impose preexisting condition limitations. If you become covered by another group health plan and that plan contains a preexisting condition limitation that affects you, your COBRA coverage cannot be terminated. However, if the other plan's preexisting condition rule does not apply to you by reason of HIPAA's restrictions on preexisting condition clauses, the plan may terminate your COBRA coverage.

COBRA and FMLA

A leave that qualified under the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) does not make you eligible for COBRA coverage. However, regardless of whether you lose coverage because of nonpayment of premium during an FMLA leave, you are still eligible for COBRA on the last day of the FMLA leave, if you decide not to return to active employment. Your continuation coverage will begin on the earliest of the following to occur:

- When you definitively inform Citigroup that you are not returning at the end of the leave; or
- The end of the leave, assuming you do not return to work.

For purposes of an FMLA leave, you will be eligible for COBRA, as described above, only if:

- You or your dependent is covered by the plan on the day before the leave begins (or you or your dependent becomes covered during the FMLA leave); and
- You do not return to employment at the end of the FMLA leave.

Cost of coverage

Under the law, you may be required to pay up to 102% of the premium for your continuation coverage. If your coverage is extended from 18 to 29 months for disability, you may be required to pay up to 150% of the premium beginning with the 19th month of continuation coverage. The cost of group health coverage periodically changes. If you elect continuation coverage, Citigroup will notify you of any changes in the cost.

The initial payment for continuation coverage is due 45 days from the date of your election. Thereafter, you must pay for coverage on a monthly basis for which you have a grace period of at least 30 days.

If you have any questions about COBRA coverage or the application of the law, please contact the COBRA administrator at the address listed below. Also, if your marital status has changed, or you, your spouse or a dependent have changed addresses, or a dependent ceases to be a dependent eligible for coverage under the terms of the plan, you must notify the COBRA administrator in writing immediately at the address listed below.

All notices and other communications regarding COBRA and the Citigroup-sponsored group health plan should be directed to ADP COBRA Services, P.O. Box 27478, Salt Lake City, UT 84127-0478 or by calling 1-800-422-7608.

Your HIPAA rights (medical only)

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) is a federal law enacted to provide improved portability and continuity of health insurance coverage for dependents.

HIPAA restricts the ability of group health plans to exclude coverage for preexisting conditions. HIPAA also requires plans to provide a Certificate of Creditable Coverage and provide for special enrollment rights as described below.

Creditable coverage

Under HIPAA, preexisting exclusion periods generally can be no more than 12 months (or 18 months for late enrollees).

When you and your dependents no longer have Citigroup medical coverage, you will receive a Certificate of Creditable Coverage from the medical plan in which you were enrolled. The certificate provides evidence of Citigroup medical coverage. Present the certificate if you obtain coverage elsewhere.

Your special enrollment rights

If you decline to enroll for Citigroup medical coverage for yourself and/or your eligible dependents, including your spouse, because you and/or your family members have other health coverage, you may in the future be able to enroll yourself or your dependents in Citigroup coverage provided that you request enrollment within 31 days after the date your coverage ends because you or a family member loses eligibility under another plan or because COBRA coverage has ended. In addition, if you have a new dependent as a result of a marriage, birth, or adoption or placement for adoption of a child, you also may be able to enroll yourself and your eligible dependents provided you call within 31 days after the marriage, birth, or adoption.

If you miss the 31-day deadline, you will have to wait until the next open enrollment period – or have another qualifying family status change or special enrollment right – to enroll.

To meet IRS regulations and plan requirements, Citigroup reserves the right at any time to request written documentation of any dependent's eligibility for plan benefits and/or the effective date of the qualifying event.

Under ERISA, a Claims Administrator has 90 days to evaluate a claim, determine whether benefits will be paid, and notify you in writing with the status of your claim. In some cases, an additional 90 days may be needed and you will be notified of this during the first 90-day period.

You may receive an Explanation of Benefits indicating whether your claim was covered and if so, at what level. If you have questions, call the Plans Administration Committee directly.

If your claim is denied

If your claim is denied, in whole or in part, you will receive a written explanation detailing:

- The specific reasons for the denial;
- The specific references in the plan documentation on which the denial is based;
- A description of additional material or information you must provide to complete your claim and the reasons why that information is necessary;
- The steps to be taken to submit your claim for review; and
- The procedure for further review of your claim.

You have a right to appeal a denied claim by filing a written request for review of your claim with the Claims Administrator within 60 days of the date of the written notification informing you that your claim was denied. Once you have requested this review, you may submit additional information and comments on your claim to the plan as long as you do so within 30 days of the date you asked for a review. During the 30-day period, you may review any pertinent documents held by the plan, if you make an appointment in writing to do so.

During the review, you will be given an opportunity to request a hearing and present your case in person or by an authorized representative at a hearing scheduled by the Claims Administrator. If the decision on review is not received within such time, the claim shall be deemed denied on review.

The Claims Administrator will conduct a full and fair review of your claim and appeal and notify you of its final decision within 60 days (120 days if special circumstances apply, which you will be notified about in writing prior to the expiration of the original 60-day period).

ERISA information

As a participant in Citigroup benefit plans, you have rights under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended.

You may examine all plan documents (including group insurance policies where applicable) and copies of all documents filed with the U.S. Department of Labor (and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Pension and Welfare Benefit Administration) such as annual reports (Form 5500 Series) and plan descriptions. You can review these documents at no cost to you at the location of the Plan Sponsor.

You may obtain copies of all plan documents and other plan information upon written request to the Plans Administration Committee. The Plans Administration Committee may charge a reasonable fee for copying the documents.

You may receive a copy of the plans' annual financial reports upon written request to the Plans Administration Committee.

You may continue health care coverage for yourself, spouse or dependents if there is a loss of coverage under the plan as a result of a qualifying event. You or your dependents may have to pay for such coverage. Review this SPD and all other documents governing the plan on the rules governing your continuation coverage rights.

You can reduce or eliminate an exclusionary period of coverage for preexisting conditions under your group health plan (if one exists), if you have creditable coverage from another plan. You should be provided a Certificate of Creditable Coverage, free of charge, from your group health plan or health insurance issuer:

- When you lose coverage under the plan;
- When your continuation coverage ceases, if you request it before losing coverage; or
- If you request it up to 24 months after losing coverage.

Without evidence of creditable coverage, you may be subject to a preexisting condition exclusion for 12 months (18 months for late enrollees) after your enrollment date in your coverage.

In addition to creating rights for plan participants, ERISA imposes obligations on plan fiduciaries, the people responsible for the operation of an employee benefit plan. Under ERISA, fiduciaries must act prudently and solely in the interest of plan participants and their beneficiaries. No one, including your employer or any other person, may fire you or discriminate in any way against you to prevent you from obtaining a pension benefit or for exercising your rights under ERISA.

If your claim for a benefit is denied, in whole or in part, you must receive a written explanation of the reason for the denial. You have the right to have the plan review and reconsider your claim. For more information see the Claims and appeals section.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the rights described above. For example, if you request materials from the plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plans Administration Committee to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive them, unless the materials were not sent for reasons beyond the Plans Administration Committee's control.

If your claim for benefits is denied or ignored, in full or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. If you believe the plan fiduciaries are misusing their authority under the plan or if you believe you are being discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may request assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor or file a suit in federal court.

The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If your suit is successful, the court may order the person you sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees. One instance in which you may be required to pay court costs and legal fees is if the court found your suit to be frivolous.

Answers to your questions

If you have questions about the plan, contact the Plans Administration Committee. If you have any questions about this statement or your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plans Administration Committee, you should contact the nearest office of the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory, or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue NW, Washington DC 20210. The Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration's New York City branch is located at 1633 Broadway, Room 226, New York, NY 10019. You may also obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications' hotline of the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration.

The Plan Administrator and Claims Administrators may designate other organizations or persons to carry out specific fiduciary responsibilities in administering the plan including, but not limited to, the following:

- Pursuant to an administrative services or claims administration agreement, if any, the responsibility for administering and managing the plan, including the processing and payment of claims under the plan and the related recordkeeping;
- The responsibility to prepare, report, file and disclose any forms, documents and other information required to be reported and filed by law with any governmental agency, or to be prepared and disclosed to employees or other persons entitled to benefits under the plan; and
- The responsibility to act as Claims Administrator and to review claims and claim denials under the plan to the extent an insurer or administrator is not empowered with such responsibility.

Citigroup will administer the plan on a reasonable and nondiscriminatory basis and shall apply uniform rules to all persons similarly situated. Except to the extent superseded by laws of the United States, the laws of New York will be controlling in all matters relating to the plan.

This SPD is intended to provide you with accurate and easy-to-understand information about your Citigroup benefits and summaries of the information you need to use your benefits.
